

Creative Team Health Check

Score your team from 1 to 5 across clarity, feedback culture, workload, and growth — and get an honest read on where it's quietly breaking down.

HOW TO USE THIS TOOL

Score each statement below from 1 to 5, then average your scores within each section. Add every section average together and compare against the bands at the end to read your result.

Score 1 (Not in place) – 5 (Strong & consistent)

Clarity

- ☐ Each team member could explain their role's priorities without checking with you first.
- ☐ Creative briefs are clear enough that work rarely misses the mark on the first pass.
- ☐ The team understands how their work connects to the business's actual goals.

Feedback Culture

- ☐ Feedback is specific and actionable, not just “I don't love it, try again.”
- ☐ Team members feel safe giving each other honest critique, not just agreeing with the loudest voice.
- ☐ Feedback happens early enough in a project to actually change the outcome.

Workload & Pace

- ☐ Deadlines are generally realistic, not consistently rushed.
- ☐ No single person is a bottleneck that everything else waits on.
- ☐ The team rarely works late nights or weekends to hit avoidable deadlines.

Growth & Ownership

- ☐ Team members are learning new skills, not repeating the same work indefinitely.
- ☐ People take ownership of their projects rather than waiting to be told every step.
- ☐ There's a visible path for someone junior to grow into a more senior role here.

READING YOUR SCORE

Add your total points across all sections (out of the maximum shown), then match against the bands below.

Healthy (36–60 points)

Healthy team. Keep doing what's working, and revisit this check quarterly — health can slip fast during a busy season.

Early Warning (24–35 points)

Early warning signs. Pick the lowest-scoring section and address it directly this month before it compounds.

Needs Attention (below 24 points)

The team is likely already showing symptoms — turnover risk, missed deadlines, or quiet disengagement. This needs a direct conversation with the team, not just a private fix.
